STATE LOSES IN TAX DECISIONS

Will Lose Much Revenue
As a Result of Supreme Court Action.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 14.—Income from the state will be decreased more than one hundred thousand dollars yearly, as the result of three tax decisions handed down today by the state supreme court. The cases affected incomes derived from restricted Indian lands, gross production taxes on lead and zinc, mined on Indian land and fixation of oil value for taxation purposes.

The most important decision was one handed down by Justice Kane affirming the decision of Judge George Clark of the district court of Oklahoma county to the effect that income derived from restricted Indian lands are not subject to income taxes. Frank Carter, state auditor estimated that this decision alone will decrease the state income at least one hundred thousand dollars yearly.

The second opinion reversed the decision of the state board of equalization by declaring that gross production taxes on the lead and zinc mined on lands of the Quapaw Indians may not be collected by the state.

The third decision reversed and remanded to the state board of equalization for further action an appeal of the Exchange Oil Company of Tulsa from the board ruling which fixed the value of oil for all purposes of taxation at market value plus the current premium. The Exchange Company, which is affiliated with the Sinclair Oil Company is alleged to have sold its oil to that company at the current market price without the premium. It offered to pay gross production taxes on the amount actually paid by the Sinclair Oil Company. The board, however, raised the tax to include payment on the usual premium.

The opinion stated the gross production tax is assessed in lieu of all ad valorem taxes and must be lowered or raised by the board of equalization to conform with a tax which might be paid if the taxes were assessed in another manner. The court held that accordingly the board erred in refusing to take testimony offered by the company tending to show that the gross production tax was too high as assessed.

City Commissioners Will Meet Today To Complete Ordinance

The city commissioners will meet today to complete the ordinance prohibiting the parking of cars on the paved streets after 11:30. There are only a few minor details to be worked out and when these are finished and passed on the ordinance will go into effect. Just how soon this will be is not yet known.

LARGEST COTTON CROP SINCE 1914

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Cotton production this year will amount to 12,987,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, exclusive of linters, the department of agriculture announced today in its final estimate of the crop.

The production this year is larger than of any year since 1914, when the country's record crop was grown.

All Lions expecting to attend the banquet to be given at the First Baptist church Thursday night, Dec. 16, in honor of the senators and representatives invited here as our guests, are requested to call on the secretary for their tickets not later than 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. This is necessary in order that the ladies may be given notice of how many plates to prepare. Come early and get tickets for yourself and the guests you expect to bring. Plates $1.50 each.—Sam Schienberg, secretary.

THE BIG CONTEST

THE big contest for the Essex car, and many other valuable presents in the News' Greater Circulation Campaign, such as a trip to California, a $295 Edison phonograph, one hundred dollars in gold, etc., etc., is rapidly drawing to a close.

The contest has been lively from the first, yet good natured in every respect, and there will be no sore spots when it is over. Each contestant who stands anywhere near the head of the list, and who will draw valuable prizes, have worked diligently from the beginning and they are going to be well rewarded for their efforts.

In the last few days remaining the contestants are urged to not let their efforts wane. The winners will be those who stay on the job until the ballot box is actually closed on the evening of December 23.

The job printing coupons now being sold by the contestants are good for their face value in job printing at this office any time during the next year, at prices prevailing at the time that printing is executed. Orders for these are coming in rapidly from many of the contestants, and merchants and business men are advised that they need not be afraid to purchase these coupons.

The News is without doubt the best equipped printing establishment in southeastern Oklahoma, and all job printing done at this office on these coupons will be given the same careful attention that has characterized all our work in the years gone by. This gives the business men a chance to aid their favorite candidate without the outlay of a single cent wherein value received is not given.

CONFERENCE TAKES A RECESS TODAY

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The British delegates to the international communication conference have left for home. Their departure is expected to result in an indefinite recess by the delegates representing the United States, Japan, France and Italy.

The British delegates left late last night after the close of the plenary session. The reason advanced by them for their departure was understood to have been a desire to return home to spend the Christmas holidays together with expression of the conviction that a settlement of the difficulties which have arisen over the disposition of the former German cable was impossible without the return of the delegates to France and Japan, Paris and Tokyo, respectively, to consult personally with their foreign offices.

Illicit Still Found At Pump Station Wait! It Was At Dustin and Not Ada

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 13.—An illicit still has been operated in the pump station of the city waterworks at Dustin, in Hughes county, according to M. C. Binion, chief federal prohibition officer for Oklahoma. He announced today that in a raid Saturday night at Dustin a 60-gallon copper still, 550 gallons mash and three gallons of whisky were obtained. Earl Bridges and Joe Ryan are under arrest in connection with the case, Binion said.

Returns To Ship After Visit Here With Relatives

Ensign T. O. Cullins, Jr., who gave his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Cullins, Sr., such a delightful surprise by suddenly appearing in this city about fifteen days ago for a short stay with home folks and a host of good friends, returned to New York City today where he will board the gunboat, Arizona, on the third of January.

LEAGUE IS FOR DISARMAMENT

Assembly Today Considers Plan to Put Stop to Armament.

(By the Associated Press)
GENEVA, Dec. 14.—Consideration of the disarmament program of the league of nations, as settled upon by the committee, began in the assembly of the league today. An agreement among the powers to put an immediate end to the growth of armament is contemplated in the plan presented by the disarmament committee. The council of the league is asked to undertake the bringing about of such an agreement. It was expected the project would be accepted without modification, but like the plan for an international court, which was discussed yesterday, it was to furnish occasion for another series of addresses.

MARIE RAPPOLD SINGS AT NORMAL TONIGHT

What is purported to be the best concert ever heard by an Ada audience will be given tonight in the Normal auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. Marie Rappold is a leading soprano of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company and makes some of the finest phonographic records for the Edison company. Her voice has more volume and is more fully matured than any other singer that ever visited Ada. She also has that pose and charm that usually wins an audience from the very beginning.

All those who haven't already purchased tickets can get good seats by coming early to the Normal and selecting a seat from the board at the door. The admission is $1.50, which includes the reserved seat.

Metropolitan Grand Opera Star Will Sing Here Tonight

Marie Rappold, Metropolitan grand opera prima donna, will sing tonight at the normal auditorium under the auspices of the local lyceum bureau, the program beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

She is one of the most noted opera stars in the United States and Ada is greatly honored by her presence here tonight. A large crowd is expected to attend the program and all Ada music lovers will miss a great treat if they fail to hear her sing.

INTEREST CENTERS IN ELECTION OF UNION OFFICERS

MUSKOGEE, Dec. 14.—More than ordinary interest was expressed today in the annual election of officers of the United Mine Workers of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas. The chief contests involved the office of vice-president for which John L. Britton of McAlester, incumbent, and Herman Scott of Huntington, Arkansas, are candidates, and for the secretary-treasurer, which is being contested by E. F. Ross, Muskogee, incumbent, and Dick Edwards of Russellville, Arkansas. John Wilkinson, president of the district, received a majority vote in the primary and does not have to run in the general election.

Miss Florence Hunnicutt

The "Comeback."
First Boy (contemptuously)—
Huh! Your mother takes in washin'.
Second Boy—Sure she does!

Miss Hunnicutt is a High School Senior and is one of the popular girls in her class. She started the race for the Essex car early in the campaign and has been an earnest worker from the beginning. Her friends have been generous in their support and she only asks that they make good their promises before Monday.

Lions Hold Lively Session And Elect Officers For The Coming Year—Many Present

The Lions club of Ada held its regular meeting in the parlors of the Harris hotel today, immediately following luncheon, at which a large percentage of the membership was present. Many matters of importance were up for consideration besides the fact that today was the date for the annual election of officers.

The meeting today was the first under the new plan of selecting a new chairman for each meeting, and W. L. Whitaker was asked to preside.

After the reading of the minutes and the disposition of the regular routine on the blotter of the secretary, the new officers for next year were selected. The election resulted in the selection of the following: G. V. Gowing, president, Ed Gwin, first vice president, H. F. Suez, second vice president and Sam Schienberg, secretary.

Rev. J. E. Henshaw of Newton, Kan., was introduced as the guest of C. E. Cunningham and was asked to address the meeting. He spoke for several minutes on the subject of "Co-operation," and his splendid remarks were very much appreciated by the members. Rev. Henshaw is a most highly educated gentleman and a splendid at dinner speaker. He gave the club much food for thought and was cheered to the echo at the conclusion of his remarks.

Foster, McSwain, proprietor of the new McSwain theater, introduced as his guests the Harmony Quartet, playing the theater this week, who entertained the club with four or five selections that were rare musical treats and which elicited much applause from the membership.

Dr. Linscheid was called upon and spoke at length about the visit to this city on Thursday and Friday of the senators and representatives who reside in the 11 counties composing the East Central Normal school district. He outlined the needs of the Normal school at this place and dwelt especially on the crying need for better salaries for Normal school teachers. It was shown that Oklahoma pays the lowest salaries for Normal school teachers of any state in the union, and, further, that the East Central is constantly losing its best teachers, due to the fact that they are offered more money for less work in other localities. It is understood that the matter of repairing the Normal school building, improving the campus and other matters of importance will be discussed with the various senators and representatives of the district when they visit the Normal next Friday.

Committees appointed at the previous meeting were asked to make their reports, one of which was the committee appointed to ascertain what was needed in the way of charity at Christmas. It was shown that at least 200 families in the city would be without Christmas cheer unless some action is taken by some of the civic bodies of the city looking to some means of supplying the want. In consequence of the report the Lions club agreed to champion an "Empty Stocking Campaign" and see to it that the wants of the little ones amongst the poor are cared for. A committee was appointed by the chairman to look after this work and co-operate with the local chapter of the Red Cross in so doing.

Mr. Davis, president of the Lions club of Shawnee, was present, the guest of B. H. Epperson and R. W. Simpson, and made a few well timed remarks at the close of the meeting.

The Lions of the city are to entertain the senators and representatives from the 11 counties composing the East Central Normal school district at a banquet at the Baptist church here Thursday night, and the chairman asked for volunteers with cars to meet the train Thursday and take care of the guests. The request of the chair was readily complied with and several volunteered.

After one of the most interesting gatherings of the whole year the meeting adjourned until the next regular date unless sooner convened by special order.

PLAN TO REDUCE NAVY BUILDING ON MORE THAN ONE MILLION UNPAID

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—A resolution requesting the president to open negotiations with Great Britain and Japan for an agreement to reduce naval building programs 50 per cent for the next five years, was introduced in the senate today by Senator Borah, republican of Idaho.

The resolution would declare it to be the opinion of congress that the United States would make such a reduction if an agreement could be brought about, and asserted that the navies of Great Britain and Japan were the only ones of the powers sufficient to require American attention.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Advocating a return to the day when the housewives of the city as well as the farm considered alike the economy of the household, J. A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, is preparing a book of recipes and menus containing information on how to prepare products at home without buying through the manufacturing and distributing systems which cause such a variance between the prices at the farm and at retail stores.

In order to carry out the plan, city dwellers will be required to buy foodstuffs in large quantities than at present, Mr. Whitehurst pointed out, and more care must be exercised in their preparation and purchase, especially meats. In meats Mr. Whitehurst believes that too great a margin exists between the price paid the stock raiser or farmer and the retail price paid by city families. His plan contemplates the direct selling of many products.

Supervision of slaughtering and packing for shipment and preparation on the farm is considered necessary by Mr. Whitehurst. The consumer should know, he said, that his sausage is ground in a sanitary way, which task will be part of the market commission in making a thorough inspection of facilities and bringing the customer and producer together.

If the booklet now being prepared by Mr. Whitehurst is strictly adhered to, he says that the only thing a farmer need buy from his grocer is sugar, salt, coffee, tea and similar sidelines. The other requisites are produced on his farm. In an emergency sorghum can be used for sugar, thus eliminating that item, he said. Mr. Whitehurst declared that he had carried out this plan

SAYS PUBLIC IS TAKEN UNAWARES

Mistake Not To Take Advantage of the Present Conditions.

"Go and see what there is to all these Special Discount sales of clothing," said the editor. The reporter went and saw. And an interesting story it is. The situation as related in the big clothing stores may be summed up by quoting the words of Ben Schienberg of the Model Clothiers.

"If you had come to see me three weeks ago," said Mr. Schienberg, "I would have had nothing to say for publication. But I guess it's time to get away from that idea and lay the cards on the table, face up."

"As you know, there was a great scarcity of clothing last fall and in fact up to the middle of last spring. As a result retail clothing merchants bought very freely for the present fall season. In fact, in some cases they bought more than they expected to need, figuring they would not get all they ordered. But we have had week after week of most unseasonably warm weather, which always has a very bad effect on the clothing business. No doubt, too, the general feeling that prices were due to go lower has encouraged many a man to defer the purchase of his fall suit and overcoat.

"This condition in the clothing stores in this city and in fact throughout the country, has brought matters to quite a crisis.

"Our expenses for rental, advertising, salaries, etc., have been going right on and bills have been falling due for our season's purchases of merchandise. As a result we have been forced to take steps to secure cash to meet our maturing obligations. This is the true reason back of the marking down of clothing in recent weeks—not as some people have been led to believe because of any reduced price in the cost of wool. The materials used in this season's garments were purchased by the clothing manufacturers almost a year ago. And as for labor, every one knows that there has been no reduction in the wages paid in the wholesale tailoring establishments. On the contrary in some cases wages have been increased. The reason that some manufacturers are reducing prices is that they find themselves in just about the same position we are in. They need the money. So they are offering us clothing at lower prices. But how can we buy it, when our stores are full?

"The retail merchant's need for cash and for developing immediate business has caused him to mark his suits and overcoats at prices that, anticipate any reduction that may be forthcoming from the manufacturer. In other words, the prices at which fall clothing is being offered today have outstripped any changes which are apt to occur for some time to come.

"No thoughtful man can believe that prices are going back to pre-war levels, unless he believes that wages in factories, salaries in stores and rent for stores are going back to pre-war rates. Clothing is low today—it's cheap—in some cases undoubtedly cheaper than it will be next spring. And the reason is that retail merchants in order to raise the cash to pay their bills have sacrificed their profits and have even marked much of their stock at less than its cost—them. I know of some suits selling today for less than it cost the manufacturer to produce them.

"A condition like this is bound to be of short duration. But it has come so suddenly that the public seems hardly to know what to make of it.

"Tell them the truth," said Mr. Schienberg.

NORMAN'S DAILY PAPER ISSUED THRICE A WEEK

NORMAN, OKLA., Dec. 14.—As a result of the critical conditions of business in Norman, especially as they effect Cleveland county farmers, the Norman Daily Transcript, published by the Transcript-Enterprise Publishing company, of which R. H. Parham is head, has been reduced temporarily to a thrice-a-week publication, according to a decision reached by the management this week.

This does not mean that a local daily paper in Norman is to become an institution of the past, but that during the present crisis the number of issues will be cut down purely for business reasons. A paper as large as the Sunday issue is promised for the three numbers each week. More country correspondence will be published.

COAL BARONS ARE TAKEN TO TASK

Congress Threatens Their Destruction; At Least Govt. Ownership.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The sharp criticism of the national coal industry, with an implied threat of destruction by congress to meet evil profiteering and speculation, accompanied the partial report of the senate committee on production and reconstruction which was submitted to the senate today.

In general, the report, which asked power to allow the committee to continue its investigation, suggested government activities to bring about co-operation under regulation in building construction, but its three republican members, Senator Caulder of New York, Edge of New Jersey and Kenyon of Iowa, supplemented their findings with additional statements all of which agreed in asking special legislative attention in present methods of producing and distributing coal.

"These," Chairman Caulder said, "must be corrected." While Senator Kenyon declared that "if the matter is to go, I for one, harsh as the remedy might be, shall favor taking over the mines." Senator Edge expressed his conclusion that "the coal industry cannot bring order out of the prevailing chaos and give even reasonable relief to the suffering people, so I am ready to modify, somewhat in this case, my opposition to government intrusion into private business and to advocate legitimate scrutiny."

"Coal profiteering, especially as it has followed the priority order of the interstate commerce commission, has continued unchecked by the department of justice and is a national disgrace," the committee says in its report.

"Coal speculation has been permitted to monopolize the transportation facilities of the country, retarding necessary construction and including basic cost of manufacturing and distribution of commodities in general. It has bled the home owners, public utilities and industries."

"Our investigation into the coal situation has convinced us that the private interests now in control of the production and distribution of coal, in spite of the efforts of some, are actually unable to prevent a continuance or repetition of the present deplorable situation and that it is the duty of the government to take such reasonable and practicable steps as it may deem necessary to remedy the evil."

"Government administration of the production and distribution of coal," the report said, "should be a last resort."

"In other fields," the committee said, "there exists a serious shortage of housing, not only in the great cities, but in the smaller cities as well, even in the far west and south, which it held to have deleterious effects upon public health, morals and industrial growth." Labor conditions were also discussed by the committee.

The misdirection and exploitation of some groups of organized labor, through grafting leadership, have been revealed in New York and has been represented in some other large cities.

This has spread to combinations of employees, who, working together with such grafting labor leaders, have combined to force unduly high prices. The department of justice is urged to prosecute wrong doers whenever they are found to violate the federal statute.

HARDING CONFERS WITH PA. GOVERNOR

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, Dec. 14.—Pennsylvania's governor, William C. Sproul, and W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, were at President-elect Harding's conference today in his canvass of opinion on the league of nations and other questions to be solved by his administration. From Governor Sproul the president-elect sought advice as to many administrative problems, while from Mr. Atterbury, who was in charge of the American railroads in France during the war, he wanted to learn the particulars about economic and industrial conditions in Europe.

ARGENTINE WILL NOT PULL OUT OF LEAGUE

(By the Associated Press)
BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 14.—The Argentine government will not give any notification of withdrawal from the league of nations in accordance with article one of the pact, because it does not consider that Argentina ever has been a member of the league, the Associated Press was informed by the foreign office today.

GREETINGS, PETE!

Here I am tonight in Winston-Salem where more tobacco is manufactured than in any other place on the face of the earth!

When I knocked off for the day, I buzzed around like a hungry bee in a buckwheat field—up and down long streets of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories!

As the Reynolds enterprise proved out more and more gigantic and I talked with more men about it, I got the real and true answer as to why Camels are so good and so entirely different from any other cigarette! I'll spin it for you, old top—listen:

Every man I talked with made the one big point that the officials and the more than 350 Reynolds foremen have an inborn knowledge of the tobacco business; that (putting it into a North Carolina expression) they were virtually "born and raised in a tobacco patch"; that they know tobacco; how to grade it, blend it, and how to manufacture and sell it!

And, what's most important of all, Pete, these Reynolds folks sure give men what they want—the best that can be produced! Why—Peter, it took months to perfect Camels Turkish and Domestic blend—and that refreshing flavor—and wonderful mild, mellow body!

Tomorrow, I'm going to meet some of the Reynolds folks. Got to see inside of those factories!

And, you know me!

Obey them that have the rule over you and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you. —Heb. 13:17.

THE PASSING OF THE MIGHTY.

The recent banishment of Venizelos by the Greeks reminds one of the Greece of the time of Aristides. When an ancient Athenian was asked why he was voting to banish Aristides, whose record was blameless, the Athenian answered: "I am tired of hearing him called Aristides the Just." In growing tried of Venizelos the Greeks show that Greece has changed very little in 2,500 years.

One who is not familiar with the lessons of history may wonder why the people of Greece should decide by an emphatic majority to exile the greatest statesman that nation has produced since the Golden Age of Pericles. He found his country threatened with destruction. The mightiest nations of the world were playing for the Grecian prize and the overthrow of the government was then well among the possibilities. He was called to the helm of government when the life of Greece was trembling in the balance. His master hand carried out the schemes devised by his master brain and as a result of his labors the Grecian flag floats today over twice the territory that Greece possessed in the days of Constantine. He made his nation the leading second class power of Europe with a powerful influence over some of the first nations of Europe. Such a service merited the plaudits of his people. They certainly did not merit a peremptory exile.

But one familiar with the lessons of history will not be surprised at the fate of Venizelos. It is the way of the world to crucify its benefactors. The greatest figure of modern Greece has gone the way of great men from the days of Aristides. Even within our own time, in fact within the past five years, we have seen the master spirits of our era go down one by one. Regardless of their service to their people, regardless of whether their legacy was a blessing or a curse, they have gone to their doom. Nicholas of Russia and Kerensky, William of Hohenzollern, Charles of Austria, Clemenceau of France, Orlando of Italy, Wilson of America, and now Venizelos of the Greeks, all have felt the steel of public condemnation. The men who gave the crucifixion of their own souls for humanity and the men who conspired to destroy civilization have met the same fate. Some are sleeping in murdered graves. Some are eating out their hearts in exile. But all have fallen from the high place they occupied when the world was aflame.

The only world figure still in the ascendant is Lloyd George of Great Britain, but he is tolerated because the empire has no figure capable of taking his place. His countrymen despise him and hate him and would gladly send him into enforced retirement if he were not the only living Briton capable of saving his country from threatened dismemberment. As soon as he shall have guided his people through the dangers that now beset them, they will drag him down to his ruin even as the Greeks have ruined their greatest leader.

THE PERIL OF THE BALLOT.

It took the Anglo-Saxon a thousand years to establish a ballot box on a street corner and acquire the privilege of casting his ballot. During that millennium he came to consider the ballot box can be free.

The American equipped with the rich heritage of his Anglo-Saxon forebears extended the ballot to all classes and colors and sexes, and having made suffrage all but universal decided that democracy enthroned in this nation is safe until the end of time.

But the presence of the ballot box is just as dangerous to free institutions and American ideals as its absence ever was. We are a free people and the ballot is a blessing only so long as that ballot is cast by an American citizen, proud of his country, satisfied with the form of his government, and determined to die if necessary to preserve his country and his government from their enemies. We are not a free people and the ballot is not a blessing when it is cast by men who yield allegiance to some foreign power, who despise this country, who hate our government, and are willing to die to overthrow that government.

It is an inspiring spectacle to see an American placing his judgment and his conscience behind his ballot and casting that ballot for the good of his country. But it is a sinister spectacle to see an alien placing his hatred and his treason behind his ballot and casting that ballot for the ill of this country.

At our latest general election millions of Germans and Irish and Italians voted along with millions of real Americans. But they voted for the good of Germany and Ireland and Italy, and for the ill of the United States. Their presence at the ballot box meant nothing if it did not mean that Germany and Ireland and Italy are helping govern the United States. It meant that millions of aliens are voting to hurt and hinder instead of voting to strengthen and help.

The flood gates are open and millions of additional aliens are on the way to America to take advantage of the American ballot to wage war on American institutions. For them the ballot box is free. They can employ it to bring about the downfall of our government.

For more than a hundred years the ballot box has been our salvation. Let us take heed that in the near future it does not prove our destruction.

Farmers may talk till doomsday about holding cotton, but the only man who can really hold cotton is the man who owns cotton. The farmer who has a lot of mortgaged cotton on his hands can never hold it.

BIRTHS

Cards are out announcing the birth of little Mary Hope McCammon Nov. 29, at Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Y. Q. McCammon, the parents, were, for a long time, in charge of the famous Horseshoe ranch, near Hickory, this county, and have a host of admiring friends in this city and community.

Man Charged With Stealing Shoes To Be Tried Today

Henry S. Homari was brought before the mayor this morning charged with stealing and carrying away a pair of shoes belonging to others than himself.

The owner of the shoes notified the sheriff of his great misfortune and pointed out the man whom he had seen with the lost articles. When it was that Mr. Romari was accosted in the name of the law and taken into custody. The owner of the shoes stated that he was in the depot reading a newspaper when they were taken. When asked if he was waiting for a train he said that he was, adding that he had waited some time for a freight train but that none had up to that time appeared which answered his purpose.

The man of the foreign name pleaded not guilty this morning and his trial has been set for this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

'Double Dyed Deceiver'

By O. HENRY

Nobody has ever been clever enough to invent a better method of reforming a bad man than by showing him a little kindness. Jack Pickford in "A Double Dyed Deceiver," plays the part of a youth who had the reputation of being the meanest two-gun fighter in Texas. He boasted of his reputation as a killer. He was a bad man to cross, and then a sudden flip of fate sent him to a south American town, where he posed as the long lost son of a wealthy Spanish family. For the first time in his life he learned the meaning of mother love. It is a picture that will leave you glowing with happiness. See it today.

GEORGE WALSH IN "FROM NOW ON"

By Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man"

IN SOCIETY

When to the common rest that crowns our days, Called in the noon of life, the good man goes, Or full of years, the ripe in wisdom, lays His silver temples in their last repose; When, o'er the buds of youth, the death-wind blows, And blights the fairest; when our bitter tears Stream, as the eyes of those that love us close, We think on what they were, with many fears Lest goodness die with them, and leave the coming years.

Prizes Are Won by Local People at the State Poultry Show

Mrs. C. S. Aldrich and Mr. Lute Douge returned Monday from the state poultry show which has been in session at Okmulgee since December 8. Both of these fancy poultry raisers entered prize-winning fowls at the show and are justly proud of the laurels won.

Mrs. Aldrich won first, second and third cockerel prize on Rhode Island Reds. Mr. Douge won first pen, second pullet; third and fourth cockerel; fourth cock; fifth hen, and sweepstakes for best pen of Buff Orpingtons.

About 1,500 fowls were entered at the show from all over the state of Oklahoma, and several were entered from the states of Texas, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri. While the individual attendance at the show was not so large this year as previously, the displays were better than usual.

The Pontotoc county poultry judging team won fourth place at the show, competing with representatives of 15 other counties.

The team was composed of Wylie Blanks of Ada, Herman Floyd of Ada and Obe Robinson of Center. This team was picked by county farm agent, J. B. Hill, and county demonstration agent, Mrs. Elva Roberts Duvall, who are very proud of the good showing made by the members of the team. Mr. Hill says that he expects to see the Pontotoc county team take the first place at the show next year.

Expression and Piano Classes To Appear in Recital

The juvenile and expression classes, under the supervision of Misses Kittell and Adams of the Normal, will give their recital in piano and expression tomorrow evening in the Normal auditorium, the program beginning at 7:30.

A full program will appear in tomorrow's paper. The instructors in charge have been working hard to make this recital the best of its kind ever given here. The students are also working hard and are anxious to put forth their very best efforts to make it a great success.

On Monday evening the advanced classes in piano and expression will appear in recital, the program of which will be announced later. The people of Ada should attend both of these exercises as they are of the highest class and no doubt will be well given.

EX-SECRETARY OF MILLIONAIRE POLITICIAN IS SOUGHT IN CONNECTION WITH HIS DEATH

Clara Smith Hamon and Jake L. Hamon.

Clara Smith Hamon is being sought by police of Ardmore, Okla., on a charge of shooting Jake L. Hamon, millionaire oil, railroad and lumberman and Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma. She formerly was Hamon's stenographer. She was his niece by marriage. Friends of Hamon declare, and Hamon said when he was found, that he shot himself accidentally while cleaning his revolver. Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, the millionaire's widow, has said that she will not prosecute Clara Hamon if she is brought to trial.

Hospital Notes

Successful Operation for Tumor.

A remarkable operation was performed at the Faust hospital Monday afternoon when a very large tumor was removed from the abdomen of Mrs. Velma Apple, of Blanchard. The tumor weighed twenty-five pounds and was large enough to nearly fill a half-bushel measure.

Mrs. Apple is recovering nicely from the operation. She is 42 years of age, and the tumor had given her trouble for the past year. She is a sister of Layton Chilcutt and M. R. Chilcutt of this city.

Garrett Cox of Roff left the hospital Monday after spending two weeks on account of ulcerated stomach. He is not entirely recovered, and will make his home with a brother at the Colonade apartments until he gets better.

Verna Ingram will leave the hospital today having recovered from a successful operation performed two weeks ago.

Mrs. T. W. Rowzee returned to her home today after spending two weeks in the hospital during which time she underwent a successful operation.

Willis Morris will soon be able to return to her home at Fitzhugh. She is recovering rapidly from typhoid which has confined her to the hospital for three weeks.

Buster Moore, who was operated on two weeks ago is growing better each day and will soon be able to return to his home at Fitzhugh.

Alfred Dahl, of Ephraim, Utah, is convalescing after a month with typhoid.

Capitalists Inspect Asphalt Deposits Near This City

Three capitalists were in Ada Saturday and made a close inspection of the asphalt deposits which are to be found in abundance near the city. It is understood that their impression favors the establishment of a large plant to work up the raw material and get it in shape for practical use.

Bert Hahn owns considerable acreage one mile west of Ada, from which he has taken a large amount of asphalt during the last five years, and shipped it to various parts of the state for use in road building. The crusher plant is located on the Frisco track near the ice plant, and the raw material is hauled in from the mine in wagons and trucks.

Mr. Hahn left the city Saturday evening with the three men who are interested and has not returned yet.

Chance To Tour the World Offered by Navy; Start June 1

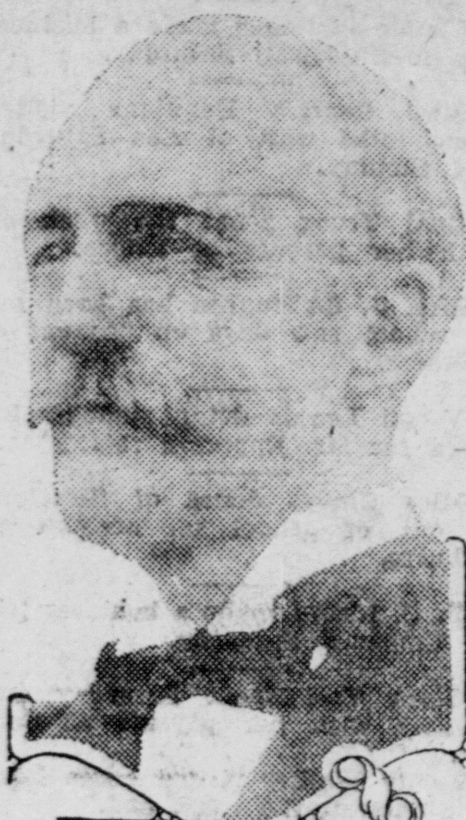

Who wants to take a cruise around the world seeing, learning and earning all the time?

That is the question asked by H. C. Smith, chief turret captain of the navy, who arrived in Ada Sunday afternoon and has opened a recruiting substation at the city hall. He is from Oklahoma City and is greatly pleased with the city of Ada.

Going deeper into details, he tells of the nine-months cruise of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets, which on June 1, 1921, starting for a complete tour of the world. Recruits who enlist now have an excellent chance to complete training in time to join the body.

Two years is the minimum enlistment, and "the chief" points out that by the time a fellow gets through training and completes the tour of the world, he will about have served his enlistment and can be classed as one of "the worldly wise," and having the advantage of the educational, vocational and technical training offered while in the service, he will be able to take his place among those of the world who are doing things.

nations in Christendom. The Christian, therefore, is the only really free man.

"A belief in the principles of Methodism and a practice of those principles makes a man a Methodist," continued the preacher, "a belief in the principles of Presbyterianism and the practice of those principles makes a man a Presbyterian; a belief in the principles of the Baptist church and of the practice of those principles makes a man a Baptist; a belief in the principles of Christianity and the practice of those principles makes a man a Christian. It can make him nothing else. And there is no more logic in a Christian calling himself a Methodist, Presbyterian, or a Baptist, than there would be in an American calling himself an Englishman, or a Scotchman calling himself a Frenchman. I challenge any man to give one good reason for calling himself a Lutheran, or any other human name. If these names indicate any good it is mine as a Christian. There would be no logic in moving to Kansas to be in a state where there is political liberty. We have political liberty here in Oklahoma. There would be no logic in moving to Missouri to be in a state where woman suffrage is allowed. It is allowed here in Oklahoma. There would be no logic in moving to Iowa to be in a state where there is religious liberty. We have religious liberty here in Oklahoma. Likewise there is no reason for anyone becoming a Methodist, Baptist, or Presbyterian to enjoy all the good there may be in them. They belong to any man as a Christian, and as a Christian only.

"Nor can there be any good reason for a distinct religious body being formed to emphasize some one truth of Christianity. There is no need to have a Trinitarian church to emphasize the relationship of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Those truths are mine as a Christian. There is no justification to form a distinct religious body to emphasize the second coming of Christ. Whatever truth there is in the Scriptures concerning the second coming of Christ is mine as a Christian."

Finally the minister answered the question, "Why am I identified with the Restoration Movement?" "The question is not," he explained, "why I am a Campbellite. A Campbellite is a person who follows the teaching of Alexander Campbell because Campbell taught them. I am not that kind of a person. I am identified with the Restoration Movement because it exalts the Bible above all other books; because it exalts Christ above all other persons; because of its appeal for union; and because its appeal for union is based on the New Testament and that alone—the New Testament of Christ, the New Testament creed, the New Testament name, the New Testament baptism—just the New Testament."

If Europe ever is at peace again—that will be a state of abnormality.

Sylvia Breamer, who is now in New York playing the featured lead, Mimi, with George Arliss in the film production of "The Devil," writes that she must confess she has found that California is the best place in which to make motion pictures. But her confession or confusion was inspired not so much by the memory of California's climate as by the distracting attractions of New York.

"New York is a pleasure town to me," she writes. "I don't want to work here; there is so much to do and so many places—theatres, operas and so on—to go, and I have to hold myself down and lock myself in to remember that work must come first."

Although she hoped to accomplish a little shopping when she reached New York, she has had no time for any such frivolity. George Arliss, appearing in "Poldek" at the Park theater, has set such a pace of hard work in making his first motion picture she has had to devote every minute to keeping up with his speed.

Pearl White is making a success of her venture into celluloid drama after having appeared serially for so long.

Business House Is Destroyed by Fire at Center

The building and contents of the general merchandise store belonging to J. W. Taylor, postmaster and one of the foremost merchants of Center, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night.

No clue has been found as to the cause of the fire which was first discovered about 9:30. It had gained so much headway before it was noticed that the people were unable to save anything and as Mr. Taylor carried no insurance it is a complete loss to him.

The building and its contents were valued between two and three thousand dollars. Mr. Taylor has not yet made known his plans as to whether he will rebuild or not. The people of that city sympathize with him in his great loss and trust that he will build a better and more up-to-date business in its place.

Store News is Good News

It gets right down to where you live. It concerns the things of your every-day life. Every newspaper you see has its "news columns" and its "advertising columns."

The first tell of happenings near and far—of fires, of sports, elections, accidents, marriages, deaths, great men and great events.

The second of things you eat, wear and use—things you have to buy—things that are being sold to your neighbors and friends in your own town.

The news columns of your paper keep you up-to-date in the world of events. That is of great importance.

But if you stop to think about it, it is important too that you know how to buy, where to buy, when to buy—that you keep posted on things necessary to feed and clothe you and your family and make you comfortable and happy.

Man Takes Hand In Madill Killing

Albert Bounds returned Sunday from Madill where he went Saturday afternoon for the purpose of investigating the killing of two men in the employ of his company. He states that according to all evidence he was able to get, the Indian, Watson Ned, had no cause for shooting the men and that it is believed he shot them in cold blood.

The preliminary trial has been set for next Saturday and Mr. Bounds will be present. He states that a daughter of the Indian, when questioned, told them that the men had not entered the house. She told them that her father was on the outside of the house and that no words were passed between the men. She remembers hearing two shots and when the gun that

Uncle Sam's Spokesman to Farmers Has Important Talk

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Special.) As director of information of the United States department of agriculture, Harlan D. Smith, the new appointee, became Uncle Sam's spokesman to the 18,000,000 farmers of the country, informing them through the press of the latest advances in agricultural methods, giving them full benefit of the work of the government experts. To the general public he must justify the appropriation of millions spent by the department annually in the interest of greater farm production and better farm life.

Only a few months ago Smith was appointed chief of the division of publication of the department, having been for a long time in charge of the office of information. In his new position of director of information he will, to quote the language of Secretary Meredith, "give special attention to board matters arising in connection with the information and publication work of the department, the work being similar to that performed by Assistant Secretary Ousley during the war period."

Smith was graduated from the industrial journalism department of the Kansas state agricultural college in 1911. He then became an assistant in the journalism department and two years later succeeded to the position of acting head of the department.

While thus engaged, Smith did extensive newspaper and magazine writing, and in 1914 he resigned to devote his attention exclusively to magazine work. He traveled extensively in the west and wrote a number of articles for leading magazines. It was this magazine work that first attracted the attention of the department of agriculture officials, resulting in his association in the work of the office of information.

The Indian used was examined it was found that only two shells had been used.

The older of the two men was found near the front porch with a bullet through his heart. It entered his right side under the arm, showing that man had his hand in the air when the fatal bullet struck him. The boy was shot in the back, the bullet passing through his heart also. There were only three eye witnesses to the deed, and as two are dead and the other refuses to talk, very little is known of the details.

The Vermont secretary of state has announced that hereafter all persons who hit trains with their autos will be punished by having their licenses taken away from them. He declares that the great

OPPOSE RAISING BARS AGAINST IMMIGRANTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Provisions of the house immigration bill, which comes up for debate today, are opposed as unnecessary and injurious to the public welfare and constituting a reversal of the historical policy of the country, in a minority report of the immigration committee, signed by Representatives Seigel of New York and Sabath of Illinois. The bill's proposal for practical suspension of all immigration for a period of two years, the report declared, is unwarranted both as to present labor conditions in this country and the number of immigrants arriving.

It is said that the war made 20,000 millionaires in America, or $400,000 for each death that resulted from the war.

Constipation Causes Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy—it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest scientists says that more than 90% of all human ills can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many sufferers realize this?

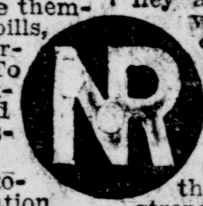

Most of them continually dose themselves with so-called laxative pills, cathartics and force bowel action. To do that is a mistake. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that constant dosing will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25¢ box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out.

And NR does this without a sign of griping, pain or unpleasantness. It works gently, but promptly and thoroughly. In a few days you notice the real result. You begin to feel that you are living again, with new strength, new energy, vim and pep and ginger. You soon find your bowels acting regularly without help. Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25¢ per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

WESTERN UNION IS AFTER GOVERNMENT

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Western Union Telegraph company brought suit in the District of Columbia supreme court today for an injunction restraining the secretary of state, war and navy from interfering with the proposed connection of the company cable from the new cable line from Barbados, where it connects with a British cable line to South America. The company complained to the court that Secretary Colby has threatened that if an attempt is made to connect with the Barbados cable by the use of three cable lines now existing between Key West and Cuba, the government will take steps, which the petitioner to man that these cables, long in use, will be torn up by government order.

McSwain.

The "Klever Kapper" Co. which opened at the McSwain theatre last night is one of the best shows playing this part of the country. Their character performers are the best Ada has had for some time. The Argonne Four Harmony Singers are full of harmony, a clever Colonial dancing team and a chorus of singing, dancing girls fill the bill and the picture program. "The Sea Wolf," Jack London's greatest story and one of the best sea stories ever written, has been made into a Paramount Artercraft picture. George Melford, who directed "Everywoman," also directed "The Sea Wolf."

A notable cast interprets the famous characters. Wallace Beery, Tom Forman, Mabel Julienne Scott head a distinguished group.

The picture is filled with thrills, with deep human emotion, with the very essence of life. The ferry boat accident is said to be one of the most spectacular scenes ever filmed. The picture is crowded with vivid, surprising, rapid incidents.

The production has been on a lavish scale. All lovers of good pictures, all lovers of Jack London, everyone who likes to feel his heart beat with genuine excitement—will want to see it.

Chamber Commerce Holds Year End Meeting Last Eve

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held its last regular meeting for the year at the parlors of the Harris hotel last evening, with eleven of the fifteen directors present.

L. Whitaker, chairman of a committee appointed by the Chamber last spring to co-operate with the city officials in the work of improving the water service, made a detailed verbal report covering the work done that was very satisfactory to the directors. Mr. Whitaker stated that the work was progressing rapidly and was being done even in better shape than had been planned at the outset. He informed the board that the work should be completed within a very short time, by January 10 at the latest.

A proposition with reference to the building of a new hospital at Ada was discussed and a committee appointed to work out with the parties interested certain details in connection with the matter.

Another board of directors will be elected for the Chamber at the first regular meeting in January, when the term of the present board expires.

NEED TO TELL OF CONDITIONS IN IRELAND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—American aid for Irish independence can best be exerted through efforts to gain the truth about actual conditions, Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, declared today before the commission of the committee of One Hundred, investigating the Irish question. Miss MacSwiney was the first witness called when the commission resumed its hearing. It had been the plan to first examine Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor, but this was changed.

How Swamp Chill Tonic
Will Help Keep
It Away

When influenza comes, it comes swiftly, without warning. Be on the safe side—be prepared to fight this dreaded thing, by keeping SWAMP Chill Tonic on hand all the time.

Then, at the first sign of "flu", take a tablespoon (for adults) of SWAMP Chill Tonic, followed by a glass of water, at night on going to bed. This will do the work—quickly and surely.

SWAMP Chill Tonic is just as good for influenza, colds, grippe, etc., as it is for malaria, chills, and ague. Most folks keep a bottle of SWAMP Chill Tonic on hand at all times. They find it can't be equalled as an all-year-round remedy. Contains no calomel, and is pleasant to take. Prescribed by leading physicians. 60c at all dealers—get a bottle today.

New Arrivals In Original Blouses

Beautiful as the Blouses have been this year, this new shipment exceeds anything we have shown in daintiness of design, richness of decoration and desirability of materials.

The prices are marked at the new low range giving you the full advantage of the market reductions.

What could be a more practical Christmas Gift.

Holiday Sale of Men's Suits

See what you save; one lot of Suits that were priced up to $60 and worth every cent of it, are now priced at

We're telling you something when we say that our retail prices on clothing are less than wholesale. You may wonder how we can do it. We couldn't keep it up always. We're taking a loss on these clothes.

We can buy clothes for less money next spring than we paid this Fall. We are giving you less than next spring's prices now. And we're doing it right at the holiday season when you'll need them most.

Other Good Suits and Overcoats from Hart Schaffner & Marx and Other Good Makers, at
